

To whom it may concern:

I have been a manager at this location for 2 ½ years. For that entire time, Infinity Entertainment has been supplying us with “Jammin’ Trivia” on a weekly basis.

We have a regular group of teams that come back every week and they bring and tell their friends. Some teams even have their favorite servers who “bring them luck” that they have to sit with every week. The guests really enjoy the DJ’s and their choice of music. Some nights we are even able to have a house team and play along with our guests. A good time is had by all. I receive comments about how much fun our guests have on a regular basis. I am happy to tell anyone who asks, who provides our trivia.

Thank you.
